Our PE Subject Leader

My Name is Mrs Wilkinson, I am the PE Subject Leader.

My passion / personal experience with my subject

When I arrived at St Joseph's, given the size of our school and provision that was on offer, it was a difficult task to be able to engage with and compete in our local school games. I was tasked with taking on PE as a subject. We employed our own PE teacher – Mrs Millar – who has transformed PE on an immeasurable scale since she arrived. Over the past four years, the passion for PE has grown significantly amongst all our children. 94% of our school community have engaged in extra curricular sports on offer, all the children have the opportunity to represent school in local sporting events and each child can talk knowledgeably, confidently, enthusiastically and at length about PE, what they are taught, how the skills and knowledge link, what their own personal targets are and how they can improve. But most importantly, they speak with real passion when it comes to how much they enjoy PE at St Joseph's. It has been the most transformative and brilliant journey for PE at St Joseph's under the care of Mrs Millar's teaching. Her passion is our passion – it's infectious.

Experiences in Our School

There isn't a moment in the extended school day that there isn't a PE related activity going on. From breakfast clubs, to sports clubs, to active play time and Daily Mile, to competitions and festivals. PE is held in high regard by all our students. We have recently just qualified to represent the Chorley District in Athletics for the Lancashire School Games, having been the County Champions for 4 years running. We have also achieved our Gold School Games mark for the fourth year and were runners up of the School Performance Award in Chorley. Competitions run regularly throughout the year both at intra and inter level and children are assessed externally by the Schools' Partnership – something we are incredibly proud of given our starting point.

Hopes and Goals in my subject

To continue on the same trajectory, keeping the passion for sport and physical literacy alive for all pupils and achieve the school's first ever Platinum School Games Mark next year!
